MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the lateſt Advices foreign and domeſtic.

THURSDAY, June 11, 1761.

HESSE, March 14.

THE Capital of this Country is ſtill in the Hands of the Enemy, who fire every Day an innumerable Quantity of Cannon on the Beſiegers with little Effect. Had the Roads permitted the Allies to bring up their Artillery as quickly as they diſhed, Caſſel would have ſurrendered before this Time. However, its Fate muſt ſoon be determined, for both Sides act with great Vivacity. The Garriſon loſt a good many Men in the laſt Sally, tho' it be true that we ſuffered in the Beginning.

Ziegenhayn is cannonaded very briſkly; and hath been ſeveral Times ſet on Fire. The Garriſon have inſiſted more than once on marching out to join their Army; which hath been conſtantly refuſed.

The Enemy ſeem to have taken a Reſolution to aſſemble between Hanau and Frankfort, and leave ſeparate Corps near Bergen. The Allies are employed in drawing an advantageous Line, for Reaſons which may be eaſily gueſſed. The French have left eleven Battalions in Friedberg.

Eimbeck, March 15. The Cannonade of the Allies upon Caſſel is heard here very diſtinctly. They have been reinforced by four Hanoverian Regiments. Col. Colignon has joined our Line beyond the Leine, with ſome Battalions of Pruſſian Grenadiers.

Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters at Schweinberg, March 15. The continual Rains during the laſt Month have prevented the Siege of Caſſel's being puſhed ſo vigorouſly as we could have wiſhed. The Enemy, conſiſting of the greateſt Part of the Garriſon, who made the Sally in the Night between the 6th and 7th, were ſo ſoon driven into the Town, that they had not Time to fill up the Trenches; the little Miſchief they did was eaſily repaired the next Day; and even the Cannon having been too haſtily nailed up, were ſoon made ſerviceable again. We had 50 Men killed on this Occaſion, and 130 Wounded. The Enemy's Loſs was at leaſt as great.

The Operations of the Siege have been naturally retarded by the extreme Badneſs of the Roads, and more eſpecially in a Country which is radically eaten up. However, we have Room to hope, from the Arrangements taken by the Count de Lippe, that Abundance will ſucceed to Scarcity, and that by Favour of the fine Weather, which has been ſet in for ſome Days, we ſhall meet leſs Difficulties in the further Progreſs of the Siege.

The Inundation which ſurrounds Ziegenhayn, not having permitted our Troops to open the Trenches, they have endeavoured to deſtroy the Fortifications by Bombs; but, with all their Precautions to ſpare the Houſes, they could not prevent ſome being burnt.

Frankfort, March 15. As the French, in executing their laſt Retreat, have been obliged to deſtroy many of their principal Magazines, to prevent their becoming a Prey to the Allies, they are at preſent employed in eſtabliſhing new Ones; for which Purpoſe they have received within theſe few Days, by the Rhine, ſeveral Boats laden with Grain, Hay, &c.

Schweinberg, March 15. After all the Boaſting of the Enemy, and their Inſinuations in Holland, that M. Broglio had with great Addreſs got the Allies between two Fires, we ſhall bid fair to give a deciſive Blow at the Entrance of the Campaign. The Garriſon of Gottingen is again blocked up; the ſecond Parallel is actually finiſhed before Caſſel, and that Place will fall in a few Days. Our Troops have again taken Poſt in the Suburbs of Ziegenhayn; and a Bombardment of 48 Hours will infallibly reduce it.

This Morning we had Advice, that his Pruſſian Majeſty has made a great Impreſſion on the Army of the Empire, and will ſpeedily open the Campaign with the Siege of Dreſden.

We are ſo poſted that the Enemy may fight if they pleaſe, but it muſt be in a Plain, which to them is no favourable Situation.

Frankfort, March 17. The Head-Quarters of Marſhal Broglio are at Butzbach Count Broglio made a vigorous Sally from Caſſel on the 7th, in which he poſſeſſed himſelf of four Haubitzers, and nailed ſix Pieces of Cannon. The Enemy ſuffered beſides the Loſs of 5 or 600 Men. It is, however, whiſpered here, that the Place cannot hold out beyond the 19th, unleſs the Marſhal hazards a Battle, for the Event of which it is probable he will not be willing to render himſelf reſponſible.

It is ſaid that 700 Men of the Army of the Empire have been made Priſoners by the Pruſſians in the Neighbourhood of Wurtzbourg.

Cadiz, Feb. 24. The King having reſolved to ſend ſome Troops and Warlike Stores to America, has aſſured the Merchants that they may be perfectly eaſy upon that Head, his Intention being only to ſecure his Frontier Places in America, and not to break with any of the European Powers.

Cologn, March 13. There has been a very briſk Action between two Detachments of the Allies and the French, to the Diſadvantage of the Latter, who were obliged to make their Retreat as well as they could to Weſel. The Allies have a very ſtrong Body of Troops in Weſtphalia, and a numerous Garriſon at Munſter.

Brunſwick, March 20. Some Letters from the Camp before Caſſel of the 17th mention, that the Enemy had made a conſiderable Sally the Night before, in order to deſtroy a Battery, which was erected near the Town; but that they had been repulſed with great Loſs.

M. de Belſunce, who has for ſome Time paſt held the Poſt of Northeim with Part of the Garriſon of Gottingen, has been forced, by ſome Troops ſent from hence and Hanover, joined by a ſmall Body of Pruſſians, to quit the Poſſeſſion of it.

LONDON, March 26.

This Day came on at Guildhall the Election of Repreſentatives to ſerve in Parliament for this City, when Sir Robert Ladbroke, Knt. Sir Richard Glynn, Bart. William Beckford, Eſq; and the Hon. Thomas Harley, Eſq; were declared by the Sheriffs to have the Majority of Hands; but a Poll was demanded by the Friends of Sir Samuel Fluyder, Bart. which began this Afternoon.

Briſtol, March 28. Yeſterday came on the Election for Members to ſerve this City in Parliament, when our worthy Repreſentatives, Robert Nugent and Jarrit Smith, Eſquires, were re-choſen without Oppoſition.

The ſame Day, Lord Ligonier, and the Right Hon. William Pitt, Eſq; were re-elected for the City of Bath.

Newcaſtle, March 10. The Diſturbance in our Neighbourhood about Balloting for a few Vacancies in the Militia, hath already been mentioned. The Deputy Lieutenants and other Magiſtrates prevailed on the Rioters to go quietly home that Night, viz. Saturday the 28th ult. Since which the Pit Men, Waggon Men, Huſbandmen, and Servants, in the County of Northumberland (for of ſuch the Mob moſtly conſiſted) having taken it into their Heads, that the Durham People of their Station had all got clear of the Militia, by the Riſe they had made; on Monday the 2d Inſt. aſſembled in great Numbers at Morpeth, and not meeting with ſuch Indulgence as they expected, obliged the Deputy Lieutenants and Juſtices to quit their Duty for their own Safety, no military Force being at Hand. Then the Rioters got all the Liſts and Books relative to the Militia from the Conſtables, and tore or burnt them before their Eyes. The next Day they went to Whittingham, 20 Miles up the Country, and acted in much the ſame Manner. Fluſhed with Succeſs, and reinforced to 4 or 5000, they attempted the like Uſage at Hexham Yeſterday: But the Juſtices finding gentle Methods would not avail, had ordered Sir Ralph Milbank's Battalion of the Yorkſhire Militia up to Hexham the Day before from this Town. About 11 o'Clock the Mob aſſembled, and the Militia were all drawn out before them. The Gentlemen ſtill intreated the Rioters to be quiet, but all to no Purpoſe, for they aſſaulted and ſtruck ſeveral of the Militia, tho' they had their Pieces loaded, and their Bayonets fixed. In ſhort, the Juſtices were obliged to read the Riot Act, and tho' they allowed the Mob near an Hour after to diſperſe, the Militia were at laſt ordered to fire among them three Times. The firſt Fire they ſent into the Air, the next among their Legs; but the Mob being not yet intimidated, they were ordered to level the third Fire. Nineteen Perſons were killed on the Spot, and about fifty wounded. Enſign Hart of the Militia, and a private Man, were alſo killed. There has not been ſuch a Scene of Blood-ſhed this Century in this Country. However, it is to be hoped the worſt is over, as they are now pretty well ſettled again. Major Crow, who commanded the Militia, is much commended for his gallant, as well as his humane Behaviour, on this Occaſion.

Admiralty-Office, March 24. Capt. Howe, Commander of his Majeſty's Ship the Biddeford, gives an Account, by Letter dated the 14th Inſtant, that he had taken the Chamillant, a French Sloop Privateer, of 4 Carriage and two Swivel Guns, and 15 Men. She had been out of Port two Days, was going to cruize off Harwich, and had taken nothing.

Capt. Brograve, of his Majeſty's Sloop the Albany, gives an Account of his having taken on the 16th Inſtant, off the Iſle of Wight, and brought into Spithead, the Hazard Privateer of 6 Swivel Guns and 22 Men, which came out the Day before from Cherbourg, and had taken nothing.

Commodore Sir Piercy Brett gives an Account, that the Grace armed Cutter, commanded by Lieut. M'Bride, arrived in the Downs the 20th Inſtant, having the Day before off Calais, taken a French Shallop Privateer, with 24 Men, mounting 2 Carriage and 6 Swivel Guns, which ſailed that Day from Dunkirk.

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) May 6.

His Excellency General Amherſt has given Orders to Colonel Byrd to complete his (the Virginia) Regiment with all poſſible Diſpatch, and to march immediately againſt the Cherokees. His Excellency has likewiſe given Orders to ſupply the ſaid Regiment with Proviſions, &c. at his Majeſty's Expence.

Camp at Congarees, Sunday, May 3. The laſt Diviſion marches at Four this Morning, for the Fort at Ninety-Six. Col. Middleton's Regiment, with which Col. Grant expreſſes great Satisfaction, amounts in the whole to about 520 Rank and File: The Regulars are not quite 1300. We hear the Rangers are at Ninety-Six, and are complete; about 400 of them it is ſaid will join the Army, while the remaining 200 are to be employed in Scouts, and ranging for the Protection of the Settlements againſt any Inroad of the Enemy. Capt. Colbert, with his Chickeſaws, is arrived at the Camp at Ninety-Six, and has delivered to Major Moultrie two Cherokee Scalps, which they took near Old Keowee.——The Colonel ſaw every Thing in the beſt Order before he ſet off, plenty of live Cattle, Flour, & every other Neceſſary for the Campaign.

On Monday the 4th Inſt. about half an Hour paſt Two P. M. an Hour and an Half after new Moon, and very near the Time of Low Water, a moſt violent Whirlwind of that Kind, commonly known under the Title of Typhones, paſſed down Aſhley-River, and fell upon the Shipping in Rebellion-Road with ſuch Fury and Violence as to threaten the Deſtruction of the whole Fleet. In the Ship News below is an Account of the Damage done there by it.

This terrible Phænomenon was firſt ſeen by many of the Inhabitants of Charleſtown coming down Wappoo-Creek,

Wappoo-Creek, resembling a large Column of Smoke and Vapour, whose Motion was very irregular and tumultuous, as well as that of the neighbouring Clouds, which appeared to be driving down in nearly the same Direction (from S. W.) and with great Swiftness; the Quantity of Vapour which composed this impetuous Column and its prodigious Velocity, gave it such a surprising Momentum, as to plough Ashley-River to the Bottom, and lay the Channel bare, of which many People were Eye-witnesses. This occasioned so great and sudden a Flux and Reflux as to float many Canoes, Boats, Pettiaugres, and even Schooners and Sloops, which were then lying dry, and at a Distance from the Tide. When it was coming down Ashley-River, it made so great a Noise as to be heard by most of the People in Town, which was taken by some for a constant Thunder; its Diameter at that Time has generally been judged to be about 300 Fathoms, and its Height to a Person in Broad-street to be about 35 Degrees, though it encreased as it went towards the Road; when it came down towards White-Point, though it was then nearly in the Middle of Ashley-River, it impelled such a vast Body of Water out of its Place, as to make the Tide run for an Instant several Feet perpendicular in all the Docks along the Bay, and even up Cooper-River, above Mr. Gadsden's. About this Time it was met by another Gust which came down Cooper-River; this was not of equal Strength or Impetuosity with the other, but upon their meeting together, the tumultuous and whirling Agitations of the Air were seemingly much greater, insomuch that the Froth and Vapour seemed to be thrown up to the apparent Height of 35 or 40 Degrees towards the Middle, while the Clouds that were driving in all Directions to this Place seemed to be precipitated, and whirled round at the same Time with incredible Velocity: Just after this it fell on the Shipping in the Road, and was scarce three Minutes in its Passage; the Distance is near two Leagues; five Vessels were sunk outright, and his Majesty's Ship Dolphin with many others lost their Masts. All this great Damage to the Shipping, which is alone reckoned at Twenty Thousand Pounds Sterling, was done almost instantaneously, and some of those that were sunk, were buried in the Water so suddenly as scarce to give sufficient Time to those that were below to get upon Deck.——Whether was this done by the immense Weight of this Column pressing them instantaneously into the Deep? Or was it done by the Water being forced suddenly from under them, and thereby letting them sink so low, as to be immediately covered and ingulphed by the lateral Mass of Water?——The strong Gust from the N. E. which checked the Progress of this Pillar of Destruction in its Way from Wappoo-Creek, seems to have been sent by Providence for the Preservation of Charles-Town, which, had it kept its then Direction, must have been driven before it like Chaff. Another memorable Instance of the Divine Favour is the small Number lost that were on board the Vessels in the Road, of whom we cannot learn there were more than Four, viz. Mr. Nathaniel Polhill of Georgia, a Passenger in the Polly and Betsey, Capt. Muir, and Robert Kay, Captain Muir's Nephew, a Sailor on board the Elizabeth, Captain Mallard, and a Boy belonging to the Success, Capt. Clarke.

From the Shortness of the Time we cannot give a particular Account of the Rise and entire Progress of this tremendous Column. About Noon it was seen near Spoon-Savannah, upwards of 30 Miles W. by S. from Charlestown. It destroyed Mr. George Sommers's Houses on his Plantation at Stono, and on James-Island carried away a large new two Story House, with two Stacks of Brick Chimnies, belonging to the Estate of the late Mr. Hutson, and all the Negro-Houses, and other Buildings, on the Plantation: Mr. William Glen's Buildings, &c. were served in the same Manner, and it carried off the Roof of Mr. Henderson's House, and all the Out-Houses. Many, both white People and Negroes, were killed or hurt; nor did the Cattle escape, Numbers of which were found dead in the Fields. In several Parts of its Course it left an Avenue of a great width, from which every Tree and Shrub was torn up; great Quantities of Leaves, Branches, and large Limbs of Trees were seen furiously driven about and agitated in the Body of the Column as it passed along.

The Sky was over-cast and cloudy all the Forenoon of Monday, and about one o'Clock it began to Thunder, and continued more or less till after three. As soon as the Damage done in the Road was perceived, the Governor sent Orders to the Commissary to provide and get down as many Boats and Hands as possible; every Body seemed to vie with each other who should give the first and most effectual Assistance. The Fleet, as it was the largest and finest, was likewise thought to be the richest that ever was cleared out from Charlestown. By four o'Clock the Wind was quite fallen, the Sun shone out, and the Sky was clear and serene; we could scarce believe that such a dreadful Scene had been so recently exhibited, were not the sinking and dismantled Vessels so many striking and melancholy Proofs of its Reality.

A Storm of this Kind has seldom or never been known in Charlestown; but the Vestiges of such are to be seen in the Woods in more Places than one, both in this and the neighbouring Provinces.

Vessels in Rebellion Road, on Monday, May 4, destroyed or hurt in the Storm.

Sunk 5. Dismasted, &c. 12. Safe, or received little Hurt, 25. Total in Rebellion-Road 42 Vessels,

No certain Estimation can as yet be made of the Damage done the Vessels and Cargoes; the whole Loss it is feared will much exceed 20,000 l. Sterling.

Fort Prince George, Keowee, April 27. "We have got in several more Prisoners. Captain M'Intosh, since his Arrival here, February 10, has redeemed 113 of those unhappy People from Slavery; above 70 are Men, and the rest Women and Children. The Indians say they have above 50 or 60 still in their Possession, who they pretend are either sick or out hunting with their Masters, but promise to bring them in to Captain M'Intosh as soon as possible. Tistoe would have settled again at Keowee, about a Month ago, if we could have spared him any Provision; but instead of Plenty, the Women and Children now in this Fort have been on short Allowance ever since they were redeemed. On the 21st Instant an Indian Woman was killed and scalped, and a Boy wounded at Keowee, supposed to be done by the Chickesaws: The Woman and Boy were left by Tistoe to take Care of his Horses and other Effects, till his Return from the Middle-Settlements and Overhills, whither he is gone to collect and bring down his People, with some Corn to plant. We have not above a Month's Flour, tho' no Scarcity of Meat.

"From the first Moment the Cherokees knew of Captain M'Intosh's Arrival here, none of them have gone out against the Settlements, nor have they carried any white Prisoners to the French."

BOSTON, May 25.

Tuesday last put into this Port the Ship Bayard, of 500 Tons, Joseph Cheeseman, Master: She sailed from Virginia on the 19th of April last, bound to Hull, in England; but on the 16th, 17th, and 18th Instant, met with violent Gales of Wind, and sprung a Leak, so that she made two Feet of Water every Half Hour, and they were obliged to throw overboard 4 or 500 Barrels of Tar, Turpentine, and other Parts of her Cargo, to prevent her foundering; being then in Lat. 41: 30, and Long. 61, they stood away for this Port to refit.

Saturday last a Vessel arrived at Marblehead, in 39 Days from Lisbon, the Master of which confirms the Account of the Earthquake mentioned in our last.

NEW-YORK, June 1.

Thursday Night last three Vessels with King's Stores on board, arrived at Sandy-Hook, in 16 Days from Halifax: They came out, with two others, under Convoy of his Majesty's Ship the Penzance of 44 Guns, John Boyd, Esq; Commander. Major Merry, now of Montgomery's Regiment, came Passenger in one of the above Vessels, and we hear he soon sets out for his Regiment that lately sailed from hence for the West-Indies.

The Day that the above-mentioned Vessels sailed from Halifax, a Battalion of the Royal Americans sailed from thence for Quebec, under Convoy of a Man of War.

We have an Account from Lisbon, of the 10th of March, of Captain Kennedy's having taken, after a smart Engagement, a new Ship of 400 Tons, from Bourdeaux bound to Hispaniola, laden with Wine, Brandy and Flour; Captain Kennedy had only two Men wounded, and the French two Men killed, and six wounded.

We hear from New-Jersey, that notwithstanding the Bounty for Volunteers is something less than it has been for two or three Years past, and the Scarcity of Men there, the Number agreed on by that Government will probably be raised; for, by the indefatigable Industry of the Officers concerned therein, their new Levies are very near compleated.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.

Captain Banning, late of the Schooner Friendship, of Maryland, writes from Martinico, April 23, that he was taken on his Passage to Barbados, and sent in there, the 16th of that Month: That a Privateer Brig was then fitting out, designed for this Coast: That Two of our Men of War had appeared off St. Pierre's, one as a Flag of Truce, and sent in her Boats with the Prisoners, which were detained, on Pretence that she was cruising with the other Man of War, who had taken a Ship going in there: And that they expected the English Fleet daily, and were making what Preparations they could against an Attack.

Captain Pyne, of the Dreadnought, belonging to St. Christophers, writes from Virginia, That he was taken by a French Frigate in Lat. 26: 12, which had also taken Capt. Williams, in a Privateer likewise of St. Christophers; Captain Baldwin, in a Schooner bound to New-England; and 2 Vessels from Monto Christi for New-York. And that a Brig of 14 Guns, and 175 Men, in Lat. 32: 33, took Captain Jones, in a Ship from Carolina; two Vessels belonging to New-York; and was in Chase of a Ship.

Extract of a Letter from Winchester, May 26, 1761.

"We are now on the March to the Southward; but how far we shall proceed against the Cherokees, is not known. They received a Stroke lately from the Northern Indians, within a Mile of Fort Chissel, our advanced Post. They attacked their Camp in the Night, killed six on the Spot, and wounded a great many. Next Morning the Cherokees delivered up their Women and wounded Men into the Hands of Major Lewis, and begged he would take Care of them, until they should look who had hurt them."

We have Advice from Barcelona in the Mediterranean, that the Isis Man of War of 50 Guns, had fell in with a French 74 Gun Ship, with only 40 Guns mounted, bound to Martinico with Stores, which the Isis took after a small Engagement.
